Task2(每小题 2 分,共 10 分)

Questions 46 to 50 are based on the following passage:

The White House is the home of the President of the United States and his family. It wasn't called the White House until Teddy Roosevelt named it in 1901.

James Hoban designed the White House in 1792. He was awarded the job because he had won a contest sponsored by the government. His design had been selected as the best.

President John Adams was the first to live in the White House. When he and his wife, Abigail moved in, it was a huge mansion in the middle of a swamp. Many of the rooms were unfinished. Abigail used the famous East Room as a drying room for laundry. More rooms were decorated every year. Rare shrubs and trees were planted on the grounds.

Yet, all this work was for nothing. In the War of 1812, the British burned the mansions to the ground. The White House was rebuilt in 1817. The beauty of its decorations and furnishings has been growing ever since.

46. Which of the following would be the best title for the passage?

D. on a small hill

Task3 (每小题 2 分,共 10 分)

Questions 51to 55 are based on the following passage:

CATV is a short way of saying "community antenna(天线) television" But "cable television" is the term most people use. Cable television allows viewers to receive TV programs that they cannot pick up with their regular antennas.

Television signals do not follow the curve of the earth. They travel in straight lines in all directions. Signals from a TV station move toward the horizon and then go into space. If you live only a few miles from a station, you may not get any picture at all.

CATV began in 1948. People in places far from TV stations shared the cost of putting up high antennas. A community antenna was usually placed on a hill, a mountain, or on a high tower. The antenna picked up TV signals and fed them into a small local station. From the station, thick wires called cables ran out to nearby homes. Each person using the cables paid a monthly charge.

CATV worked well, and soon new uses were found for it. Local stations could feed programs into empty channels that were not in use. People along the cable could have local news, weather reports, and farm and school news at no extra charge.

Today, cable television has moved into cities. It brings in extra programs that city viewers with regular antennas cannot see. It is also used in many classrooms throughout the country.

51. From the first paragraph we know that_____.

- A. most people use cable television
- B. "community antenna" is another name for "regular antenna"
- C. a community antenna is used for cable television
- D. regular antennas cannot pick up TV signals programs

52. Of the following, which is NOT the way TV signals travel?

- A. In a curve.

B. In a straight line.

C. In all directions.

D. Toward the horizon.

53. Cable TV is becoming more and more popular because__.

A. it is free of charge

B. it can provide more programs

C. it provides all TV users good pictures

D. TV sets with regular antennas can also have a good reception through CATV

54. On the whole, this passage is about_____.

A. how to put up high antennas

B. a way of picking up better TV programs

C. how to use the empty channels on your TV set

D. the way that TV signals are sent

55. From the passage we can infer that_____.

A. TV has begun to be used for educational purposes

B. there is no charge for CATV

C. cable TV cannot be used in mountainous areas

D. antennas for cable TV are usually put up In the center of a community

Task4 (每小题 2 分,共 10 分)

Direction: Read the following passage, and then decide whether the statements(No. 56 to No.60)are true (T)or false (F). You should mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet.

My name is Mike Adams. I'm an English teacher. Do you want to know something about me?

I was born in England. My family moved to America when I was ten years old. I'm tall, and I have a gentle face. My hair is dark brown but there is not too much left on the top of my head. I used to be a sportsman with a strong body, but now my muscles have become soft, and my stomach is getting a little bigger each year. I try to be kind to other people, but sometimes I'm very stubborn(固执的) and never change my mind. I want to be an honest person. I'm very organized(有条理的) in both work and life. When I go on holiday, I carefully make a list of things to take, and I pack my bags two or three days before I leave. I like to have everything under control, and I don't want any last-minute panic(慌乱).

Now I'm teaching in a university in China. I love this country, and I also want my students to love me. So I work hard, and I like to look neat and tidy. I always wear a jacket and tie. Of course, I become a different person at home. I change into old but comfortable clothes. My work keeps me busy until quite late at night. But I usually find time to sit and talk with my wife and children. Even though I enjoy working very hard each day at the university, I still feel that my family is more important than anything else.

()56. The author lived in England before he came to China.

()57. He is a little bald-headed(秃顶的)and a little bit overweight.

()58. Sometimes it is difficult to make him change his mind.

()59. He likes to dress up formally at university and comfortable at home.

()60. He has a lot of time during the day to talk with his wife and children.
